

Addressx Privacy Policy

General Information

Addressx will never share any information related to your company's sales volumes, product information, sales data or customer information with anyone outside of your organization.

Data Acquisition and Use of Data

Addressx retains data related to the volume of checkouts on your site. This information is only used for billing purposes.

Data Retention and Disclosure

Checkout volumes are retained in the Addressx billing systems for 36 months. Addressx does not retain any other financial, customer or order information from your site or company. Checkout volumes are never sold, shared or otherwise disclosed to any individuals outside of your company.

Technical Information

Addressx is designed to track the volume of checkouts on your eCommerce site. The solution does not acquire or retain data for any other purposes.

Addressx webservices are one directional which means Addressx sends information to your checkout and registration pages. This information does not flow back to the Addressx solution which insures that other information (customer names or addresses) is not retained by Addressx.
